By Kirsty Topley

Ernie's Mindful Journey

Written and illustrated by Kirsty Topley

Includes a FREE audiobook

ISBN: 9781802635614 | RRP: £7.99 | Paperback | 24 pages | 250 x 250mm | 3-5 years | Pub date: March 2025

The first in a gentle new series of picture books encouraging mindfulness and self-care.

Ernie's brain goes so fast that he turns to his friend Bernie for help to slow it down. Bernie has lots of advice for relaxing things Ernie can DO, but most of all, he encourages Ernie to just BE. With his friend's help, Ernie learns to enjoy the present moment instead of always thinking about the next one.

‘Well, not anymore!’ hissed Aunt Celia. She grabbed Ella by the hand and started pulling her away.

Everyone said goodnight. Grandad Sparks put out the fire with a wave of his wand and carried a huge plateful of sausages back to his tent.

I saw that the army had set up lots more of the huge artillery guns. As soon as the Martians moved towards London, they would be blasted.

But instead of moving forwards, the Martians in their tripods pointed the black tubes at the army. They fired huge metal canisters that smashed when they hit the ground in front of the soldiers. The canisters did not explode, but huge clouds of inky-black gas poured out of them. This gas was so dense that it rolled across the ground like liquid.

Vaughn has been paying you lots of attention, I hear.'

Amy blushed at the mention of Fred's name.

'I believe the two of you have become close?' Laurie asked.

'We are friends, that is all,' said Amy primly. 'But now that you are here, I want to hear all about home. How is Beth? How big are the twins? Is it true Jo isn't going back to New York?'

As Laurie answered each question in turn, Amy continued to paint. When she had finished, Aunt March woke up and insisted the three of them have dinner together.

ISBN: 9781802637465 | RRP £7.99 | paperback | 176 pages | 198 x 128mm | 7-9 years | PUB DATE: October 2025

On her eleventh birthday, Dahlia Jones is given a piano covered in strange symbols. Stranger still is the fact that when she plays her new piano, Dahlia is magically transported to a town called Castle Forth, where music has been outlawed. With help from her best friend and her wacky grandmother, Dahlia must outsmart an evil queen and her guardsmen to bring peace – and music – back to the land.

The first in a musical new series by teacher, singer and 'assembly bangers' advocate James Partridge, who has featured on the BBC, CBBC, ITV, TalkTV, Netflix and BBC Radio, and built a social media following based around nostalgic Primary School tunes and music education.

GRUESOMELY GOOD & MONSTROUSLY MISUNDERSTOOD

by Alex Peart-Johnson and Rachel Delahaye

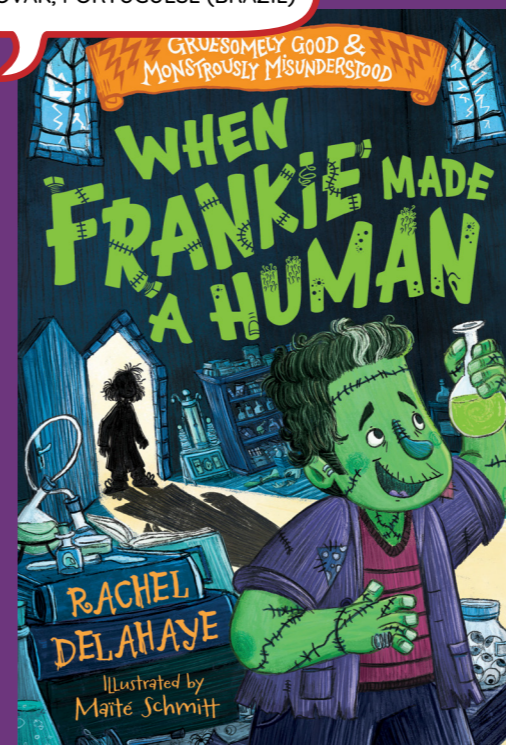

Paperback | 176 pages | 198 x 128mm | 7-9 years

Readers aged 7+ are sure to lose themselves in this spooky yet fun middle-grade series, with each instalment placing a new contemporary spin on a classic creepy tale.

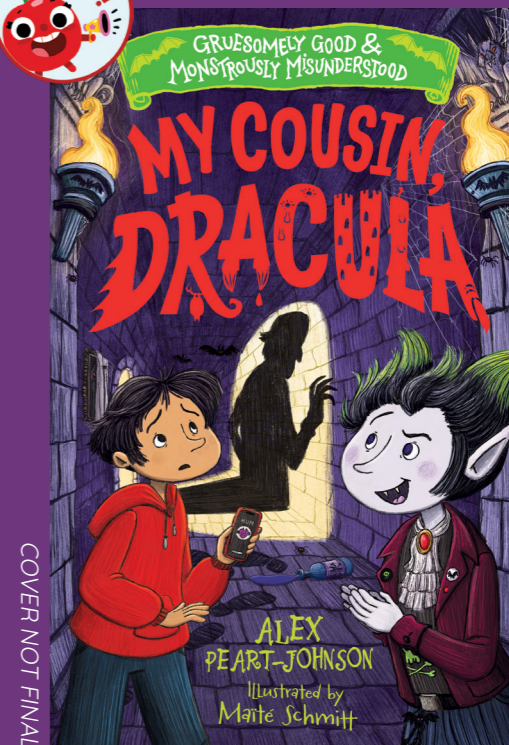

In When Frankie Made a Human, you'll meet Frankenstein - or Frankie - as you've never seen him before, in a world where friends are hard to come by and humans are the real monsters (or at least, that's what Frankie learns when he decides to make his own).

My Cousin, Dracula introduces you to Jon, Mina and Vladdy as a mystery overtakes Dratovia; monsters are disappearing under suspicious circumstances, and it's up to these three to figure out why ...

cupboard, pulled out a jar and placed it carefully on the counter. He plucked an eyeball from inside and popped it in a bag of gooey liquid. Then he sealed it up and handed it over.

'It is a human eyeball, right?' Frankie said.
'Oh yes, definitely a human eyeball. But tell your mum we're running low, so if she needs more she might have to wait. The Raging River ferryman only brings us a few good eyeballs a month from Humanplace.'

Monsterweld and Humanplace were divided, but they had one pact: the monsters wouldn't wander over and scare the kids, and the humans would send repair-kits.

'Okay, thanks, Uncle Furt!' Frankie ran out of Furt's Parts and back towards the tuk-tuk station, managing to grab the last one home. He sat in the carriage and peered at

By Samuel J. Halpin

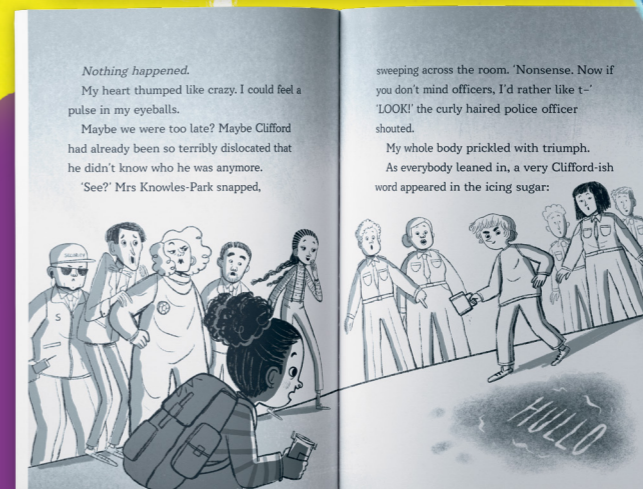

Paperback | ISBN: 9781802636949 | RRP: £7.99 | 288 pages | 198 x 128 mm | 9-12 years | PUB DATE: April 2025

Billy is having a miserable summer. She's fallen out with her best friend, Dev, her mums might have to sell their antique shop and she's just killed her pet goldfish. Things take a spooky turn when Billy happens across some unusual spectacles through which she can see ghosts.

The ghosts are worried because at night a terrifying masked villain known as Dr Dust stalks the streets using a vacuum-like machine to suck up ghosts like bits of fluff. Where they go, no one knows, but it's up to Billy and her unlikely new friend Dorothy to solve the mystery and save the ghosts.

Blue's Planet

By Lucy McRobert

Paperback | from 332 pages each | 198 x 128mm | 9-12 years
You're never too young to save the world.

Blue has always dreamt of joining her parents as they document environmental issues around the world. Finally, she gets her wish. A hot summer in Australia might sound like a holiday, but it's Blue's closest encounter with the climate crisis. From volunteering at a wildlife hospital to joining a koala rescue mission, Blue is determined to make a difference. With bushfires raging out of control, no animal is safe – and no human either. After facing bushfires in Australia, Blue and her parents travel northwest to Malaysian Borneo, where another environmental crisis awaits. Deforestation is having a drastic effect on local people and wildlife. Will Blue be able to help either side stay safe? Or is the damage just too much for a 12-year-old to fix?

JAMIE ELLERY

COVER NOT FINAL

By Jamie Ellery

ISBN: 9781802637403 | RRP £8.99 | paperback
192 pages | 198 x 129mm | 12+ years
PUB DATE: June 2025

What's worse than being broken up with in a café? Being broken up with in a café after you've already booked six non-refundable couples counselling sessions. But, when the café server, Everett, overhears this happening to Clementine, he offers to accompany him to the counselling sessions in exchange for help with the café's baking orders.

What was meant to be a fake, win-win type romance quickly flourishes into something sweeter than either of them could expect ... perhaps the recipe for love is closer than they'd thought?

Fools to Lovers is the debut novel by Jamie Ellery (They/Them).

384 pages | 198 x 129mm | 12+ years
PUB DATE: October 2025

The Girl of Darkness is Kristina Dowling's debut novel and the first part in the fantasy trilogy about Eira Martell. Ten years ago, Eira's grandmother, a gifted occultist, disappeared before her very eyes at an ancient stone circle, causing Eira to turn her back on the supernatural for good.

But when her grandmother's old charm suddenly appears in the mail, she realises her psychic abilities have returned and a forbidden book from the witch trials has made itself known. Eira, along with a young man from deep in the crypts of a Romanian castle, is thrust into a thrilling and magical adventure, intent on solving the mystery of the Girl of Darkness and an evil force that has just been woken up ...

One lonely mortal. One magical friend.
One sinister secret.

When 14-year-old Darcy is torn from her Cornish home to move to the concrete, drizzle-soaked town of Cricklewood, her life is in chaos. Her beloved sister, Amber, is gone forever, her parents are busy pretending that everything is fine, and Darcy's only friend is her crushing loneliness. But when a mysterious old woman gives Darcy a bag of magic wool - which can bring any creature she knits to life - Darcy decides to 'make' her own BFF: Alice. But the more Darcy relies on Alice, the more human Alice becomes. And then Darcy starts turning to wool. Alice is hiding a secret, and Darcy must unravel the truth, before she, herself, unravels.

By Becky Jerams & Ellie Wyatt

ISBN: 9781782266754 | RRP: £8.99 | paperback | 368 pages | 198 x 128mm | 12+ years

How can two lost girls find their voices in a world that is determined to keep them silent? Dual-written by a BAFTA-winning children's composer and a K-pop hit writer, The Songs You've Never Heard is a YA novel that champions sisterhood, musical talent and body positivity.

Meg McCarthy seems to be everything Alana Howard is not: rich, glamorous and a social media influencer that every brand wants to sponsor. But while Meg feels trapped by the squeaky-clean McCarthy brand, songwriter Alana doesn't seem to be scared of standing out. When Meg and Alana's worlds collide, they quickly learn that appearances can be deceiving.
